

Could Russia and EU jointly rescue Ukraine?

Prof. Alexander A. Dynkin

Geneva Press Club
March 18, 2014

U.S. STANCES ON THE SECESSION*

	1967 The Golan Heights	1983 North Cyprus	1993 Eritrea	2002 East Timor (Timor-Leste)	2008 Kosovo	2008 Abkhazia and South Ossetia	2011 South Sudan	2014 Crimea
U.S. STANCE	NO	NO	YES	YES	YES	NO	YES	NO
Motivation of the US position	The result of Six-day war has to resolved by Israel-Syria peaceful negotiations. Position is still the same.	The result of war between Greeks and Turkish communities in Cyprus. The U.S. stand for union Cyprus with federal system to prevent conflict between NATO members.	The result of political crisis and civil conflict in Ethiopia.	The result of conflict with Indonesian authorities after decolonization and the result of the UN transitional administration.	The result of civil war in former Yugoslavia based on decisions the Contact Group "Guiding Principles" and Ahtisaari Plan.	Violation of the territorial integrity and sovereignty of Georgia.	The result of civil conflict in Sudan.	Violation of the territorial integrity and sovereignty of Ukraine and Budapest treaty.

* All sources are based on official position of the US (White House and State Department)

GDP, Russia – 100%

Current USD

GDP per capita, Russia – 100%

GDP, Spain – 100%

Current USD

GDP per capita, Spain – 100%

- The EU has provided 100 bln Euro assistance to Spain for recapitalization of the bank system. As of March 2014 41,3 bln were issued
- To the end of 2014 Greece would be provided with 144,7 bln Euro
- To the middle of 2014 Portugal would be provided with 52 bln Euro

Quotation of 10-years sovereign bonds as of 13 March 2014:

- Spain - bond-equivalent yield 3,34%
- Greece - bond-equivalent yield 7,19%
- Portugal – bond-equivalent yield 4,53%
- Ukraine - bond-equivalent yield 40,10%

