

All sources in the article should be divided into two lists:

- 1) References: author's sources that give citations to the authors or a periodical/book (must be present in the scientific article);
- 2) Other sources (Sources): anonymous sources that do not provide such citations (documents, statistical resources/collections, regulations, treaties, etc.) (may not always be present)

References to sources in both lists are numbered sequentially, in the order of their first mention in the text. Only one source can be under one number. The same source cannot be repeated several times in the reference list (!), i.e. one source is given in the list only once when it is first mentioned in the text (!)

References in the text, tables and figure captions are indicated by Arabic numerals [in square brackets] and, if necessary, specific page/pages are indicated. Only footnotes (comments, additions, etc.) remain paginated. References to tables or figures should be numbered according to the first mention in the text of a particular table or figure.

In a monograph, the total number of pages (235 p.) is indicated.

In an article, the page range (pp. 220-222).

If the publication has a DOI, it is obligatory to indicate (!)
